Tabibi should have discussed this with some cyber-security people first. The Iraqi WMD matter was quite different. A lot of people, including myself, knew that was phony all along. After all, the report went against the findings of numerous international WMD inspections in Iraq.

On the hacking report, for example, it mentions that the spearphishing attack included inducing people to change their passwords with fake login pages. This would be very easy to confirm with the DNC or Hillary campaign team.

Taibbi: Something About This Russia Story Stinks

Nearly a decade and a half after the Iraq-WMD faceplant, the American press is again asked to co-sign a dubious intelligence assessment.

'Deserters of various nationalities, especially Filipino crew from American vessels, settled in the area after a reputed 1840s shipwreck group from Cape Point encouraged others to desert and join their working communities especially in Simon's Town and nearby Kalk Bay. Another memory passed is that a member of the crew of Alabama decided to stay permanently and live as a "fisherman" at Kalk Bay. As Manila men among the crews of other vessels visiting the southern tip of Africa found out about him and reportedly envied his pioneering success, they also decided to jump ship to live and work in Kalk Bay . . . 1. Bought the Trump Plaza hotel for $400 million.
Repossessed by the bank.
2. Bought his yacht for $29 million.
Repossessed by the bank.
3. Built 4 Casinos at a cost $3 billion
Filed for bankruptcy and went out of business.
Stiffed contractors and employees.
4. Started Trump Airlines. Never made a profit.
Planes and Helicopters reposessed by Citibank.
5. Trump Mortgage, Trump Vodka & Trump Steaks.
All went out of business.

'A child of Hollywood royalty, Fisher carved out her own idiosyncratic career, enjoying her biggest onscreen popularity as Leia in the original Star Wars trilogy before going on to establish herself as an acerbic, truth-telling writer with such books as Postcards From the Edge. Her HBO special, Wishful Drinking, in which she recounted her unusual life, was nominated for an Emmy as outstanding variety, music and comedy special in 2011.

Born to actress Debbie Reynolds and singer Eddie Fisher in 1956, Carrie Fisher grew up in a showbiz fishbowl — her parents divorced when she was just two, after Fisher left Reynolds for actress Elizabeth Taylor in what at the time was a major tabloid scandal.'

#Yellen can counter an inflationary #Trump strategy by raising interest rates, but then she would likely be replaced in 2018.

If allowed to go full steam, Trumpcakes will likely quickly inflate a debt bubble, maybe at record rates.

Will the Fed's Janet Yellen take away Donald Trump's punch bowl?

After three years of almost single-handedly juicing up the slow-growing economy, Janet L. Yellen and the Federal Reserve should be looking at easier days ahead.

'State governments will serve as an important bulwark against any attempt by President-elect Donald Trump to roll back the progress the United States has made in addressing climate change. And that's good news for the planet.

Over the last decade or so, most states have reduced their greenhouse gas emissions by promoting energy efficiency and renewable fuels. These trends should continue as clean energy costs continue to decline and, in some parts of the country, fall below the cost of dirtier fuels like coal.'

States Will Lead on Climate Change in the Trump Era

Donald Trump isn't likely to advance climate policy. Luckily, there's a bulwark against any attempt to roll back the progress made.

Drawing from in-depth interviews of more than 100 Filipino Americans in San Diego, California, this article analyzes the migrations and changing family relations of Filipino Navy stewards and Filipina health care professionals. The first section details the racialized and gendered experiences of Filipino Navy stewards, paying particular attention to the men's efforts to reclaim their masculinity in both the private and public spheres. Focusing on Filipina health professionals, the second half of the paper explores how marriage and family relations are reconstituted in the United States when it was the wives who pioneered migration.'

The question is: how will the Republicans parse things so that people keep just a fraction of what they have now, but are left thinking they're better off? It will be some plan that's good up front but diminishes over time—so that the 2016 & 2020 elections go their way, I presume.

Did you ever see the health benefits that federal politicians get? Huge! And check out the lifelong retirement that Senators and House Reps get. Far better than people who do average jobs! And now that fuzzy-haired "orange guy" from Manhattan is entitled to retirement and Secret Service protection forever. There's no justice!

Why does he mention "Christians?" He's stoking up religious sentiment.
Most ISIL victims are Muslim.

“ Our hearts and prayers are with the loved ones of the victims of today's horrifying terror attack in Berlin. Innocent civilians were murdered in the streets as they prepared to celebrate the Christmas holiday. Isis and other Islamist terrorists continually slaughter Christians in their communities and places of worship as part of their global jihad. These terrorists and their regional and worldwide networks must be eradicated from the face of the earth, a mission we will carry out with all freedom-loving partners.

'The question of whether Macedonia is moving towards Russia or the West remains open, especially in light of the recent protests. Anti-government demonstrations prompted by leaked tapes of government wrongdoings were countered by protests in support of the ruling parties. While anti-government protests united a breadth of camps and featured Macedonian, Albanian, Serbian, Turkish, and Roma flags, the counter-protests featured almost exclusively Macedonian, Serbian, and Russian flags, as well as Orthodox crosses. For analysts, this split is evidence of the deepening divisions in Macedonian society.'

people are scary as hell!

'Flynn's portrait seems to reflect the worst qualities of Dick Cheney, but in exaggerated form. Flynn avidly subscribes to conspiracy theories. He believes Islamists have infiltrated the Mexican border en masse, guided along the way by Arabic-language signs Flynn claims to have seen himself. He also believes that Democrats have imposed Sharia law in parts of Florida, and shared a now-deleted tweet that suggested Hillary Clinton could have been involved in child sex trafficking. These claims were frequent enough that his subordinates at the Defense Intelligence Agency gave them a name, "Flynn facts," which means a Flynn belief that is the opposite of a fact.'

spect of this ethno-nationalism is that Europeans originated along with some other nomadic people in the Ukrainian steppe (Pontic-Caspian steppe) not far from where ancient Rus' (Russia) arose.

'Russia under its autocratic president, Vladimir Putin, is not pulling all the strings in this vast, rightward turn. But his government has actively pushed for such a realignment. A November report published by the Atlantic Council outlined how, through a network of media affiliates and political alliances in various European countries, Russia "seeks to infiltrate politics, influence policy, and inculcate an alternative, pro-Russian view of the international order.'"

Right-wing nationalism links Moscow to Washington.

Article avoids or misses two obvious elements. One is that Trump's "alt-right" hate group supporters have a strong pro-Putin affinity. Trump knows this and he knows this group in general very well as you can make out from his rally speeches. He knows just what to say and what not to say in terms of pleasing the "alt-right."

The second thing is that Trump may have a family affinity toward pan-Slavic Putin. He married two Slavic women including Melania who speaks fluent...
